

Our Natural Secret Weapon Against Breast Cancer

To win any conflict, you need to understand your opponent. This is especially true in Breast Cancer. The overwhelming majority of breast cancers that surface are resulting from a dominating presence of estrogen which cause estrogen-sensitive tissues (breast/endomtrium to grow. Why does it not occur earlier in life, say the 20s or 302 when estrogen levels may actually be higher? The answer, I believe, rests around the issue of balance. It was proven at least 15 years ago in several studies that Progesterone, in addition to all the wonderful effects it has on bone growth, mood swings, libido, depression, and sleep patterns, exerts its most significant and life saving role in shutting down the growth cycles of mutated cancer cells which otherwise would show up months or years later as tumors. It really is that potent! The big problem is that once cycles become erratic or altogether absent, your production of Progesterone ceases. Replacing Progesterone with the natural product restores the balance. The synthetic Progestins will NOT work as well and may worsen the problem.
